Manchester Magic 104 – 89 Worthing Thunder (Trophy Final)

Barkers (Tarring) Worthing Thunder were unable to claim the one piece of silverware missing from the trophy cabinet when they fell just short of defeating the previous holders Manchester Magic in the final at Derby.

With star American guard Demetrius Scott still seriously hampered by a sprained ankle it was always going to be tough to win the game, but with Magic's American captain Patrick Dwyer hot from 3 point range in the early stages and MVP Duncan Ogilvie being difficult to stop around the Thunder basket, Worthing were unable to assert themselves on the game.

Trailing 25-17 at the end of the first quarter, Scott was introduced, and combining well with Daniel Hildreth in the backcourt defensively, the team clawed its way back into the game. With Cleve Woodfork and Pat Bates on good form inside, Thunder gained the lead at 35-34, but a run of four straight turnovers run back at them for 8 points gave Manchester back a lead that they never relinquished.

Thunder held on to the Magic, giving the fans hope that they could comeback and claim the victory, but a debatable technical foul on Woodfork (his fourth foul) late in the third quarter meant he had to sit out of the game at a vital stage.

Magic had done their homework on James Mooney and did not allow him any space to get his shots off, so Thunder found themselves struggling to score, whilst Manchester continued to crash the offensive boards profitably.

Scott re-entered the game in a final throw of the dice, but at only half speed he was unable to fire the comeback required to get Thunder back into the game.
